RE: RIN 1210 – AB32

I, many family members, and many others who have brokerage and retirement accounts, use options to enhance yield in our accounts. Please do not prevent this right for me to trade options in my retirement accounts. Trading options in my retirement account has grown my retirement account. Contrary to the easy headlines and likely misunderstanding of those drafting these rules, option trades reduce risk, rather than increase it.

Please change this proposed reg, or write an new one preserving my right to trade options in my retirement account. Please stop this paternalistic attempt to protect people from themselves, where the Department of Labor is trying to take away my ability to use options correctly to actually decrease portfolio risk.

Thank you,
